Open concept is a popular and common living style because of its functionality and the ease of interpersonal communication. The way light and air flow between spaces unobstructed makes the living space feels bigger. The added visibility with less visual barrier is also a huge bonus as safety and family time are both increased when all the family members could see and talk to each other. It allows parents to cook and do other household duties while their kids play in the same room.

Creating and transforming a cozy nook, a useful storage area, separate rooms, and sitting areas is made easy with Vitally Ecopoly. Ecopoly's fashionable designs provide spacious feeling, change the appearance of a room, enhance a room's style, and increase its functionality, all at the same time.
